Let's Start!

Natural wonders are exciting places!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about travel and vacations in social situations.

Ask your partner:

- Do you enjoy hiking?
- Why or why not?
- Do you think a hiking holiday could be exciting?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about things to do or take on a trip.
- I can report about things, actions and events.
- I can ask for and respond to suggestions.

Let's Explore!

Sally and Vanessa admired the red and purple rock formations!

* There are almost 40 rock layers in the Grand Canyon. Each has its own color.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Vanessa: Everyone should take a tour to see the Grand Canyon!

Sally: We spent three days hiking into it! It was really the only way to see it. I loved the characteristic red and purple rocks.

Vanessa: I'm glad we brought an extra battery for our camera!

Sally: Yeah. We saw amazing panoramas at those lookout stations.

Vanessa: It certainly was a challenging and exciting adventure.

Sally: The guide said volcanoes, a hot dry climate and erosion made the canyon.

Vanessa: Yeah, that and about a million years!

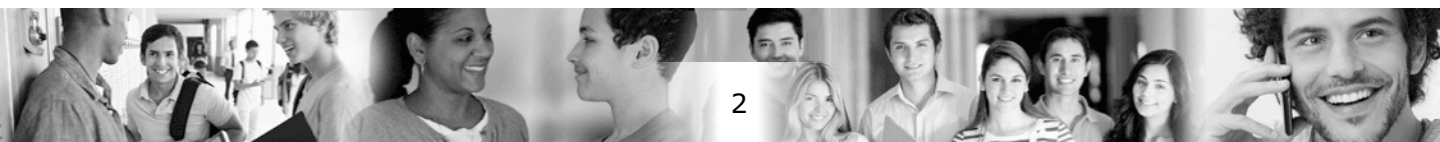

Sally: We got close to the bones of the Earth!

Vanessa: What should we do next?

Sally: Why don't we go on a helicopter tomorrow?

Vanessa: Sounds good. No more walking or scorpions!

Sally: Let's find out about it!

Let's Practice!
