Let's Start!

It was an exciting trip!

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about travel and vacations in social situations.

Ask your partner:

- Do you like outdoor adventures? What kind?
- Where do you want to go? Why?

Can Do Statements

- I can talk about things to do or take on a trip.
- I can report about things, actions and events.
- I can make suggestions.

Let's Explore!

Sally is an active blogger. What does she write about?

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Sally's Suitcase

People who venture into the Grand Canyon either can't wait to hike it again, or never want to. I loved the canyon. My friend Vanessa did not. So, we're typical.

On our first day, we started down Bright Angel Trail. We saw astonishing rock formations and heard coyotes in the distance.

On day two, we trekked up to a plateau. We camped and rested. We marveled at the vista! This is why everyone should bring a camera along.

On a shorter day trip, Vanessa wrenched her ankle. The rangers helped us out.

Anyone attempting this trip should understand there are hazards. Prepare for the trip. Check online to see what seasonal gear you need. Safety is always a priority.

Let's Practice!

Sally and Vanessa have different experiences on their trip.

Instructions: Read the dialogue again. Select the correct answer.

1. How did Vanessa feel about the hiking tour?
 - a. Vanessa loved the canyon.
 - b. Vanessa wants to go back to the canyon.
 - c. Vanessa did not like the canyon.

2. What did Sally and Vanessa do on the trip?
 - a. They trekked and camped.
 - b. They twisted an ankle.
 - c. They brought a camera.

3. What happened to Vanessa?
 - a. Vanessa lost her camera.
 - b. Vanessa helped the ranger.
 - c. Vanessa twisted her ankle.

Let's Practice!
