Let's Start!

Who knows first aid?

Learning Outcome

Accurately use information about directions to places in a limited range of social situations.

Can Do Statements

- I can describe health problems.
- I can say how far something is.
- I can ask for and respond to suggestions.

Ask your partner:

- Do you know what to do if people are hurt?
- What do you do to help?

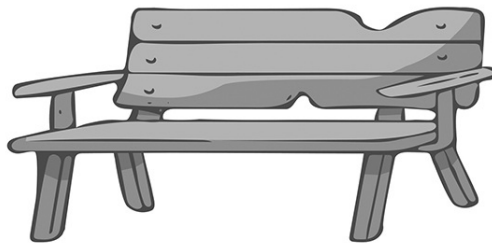

Let's Explore!

How much farther?*

* When you ask "how much farther?" you want to know the distance to the end.

Instructions: Read the text aloud.

Vanessa: OW! Oh my foot. Sally, stop!
Sally: What happened? Are you okay?
Vanessa: My foot went in a hole. I sprained my ankle.
Sally: Can you walk? How badly does it hurt?
Vanessa: It really hurts!
Sally: Let me help you. Should we sit down for a minute?
Vanessa: Oh, that would be good.
Sally: I think we should get to Indian Garden. There's a ranger station there.
Vanessa: How far is it?
Sally: It's only another quarter of a mile.
Vanessa: How much farther now?
Sally: Don't think about it. We're almost there. It's around the next bend.
Vanessa: Oh, good. I feel a sharp pain shooting up my leg.
Sally: You should ice it and get it bandaged up.
Vanessa: How about you carry me?
Sally: Right.

Let's Practice!
